One to One Disciple Making Seminar

Dave Medders

One goal of our campus ministries is to equip you to make an impact with your life both in college and in the secular world after you leave. Learning how to disciple another is critical to making a difference with your life. One of your most significant contributions to raising up disciples will be in learning how to help another person in a one to one relationship. This seminar will give you some practical tools for your discipling tool box.
